

Chinatown—Chinese New Year

Around February every year, when Chinese New Year arrives, the streets of this already busy downtown neighborhood are jammed with visitors. Everyone comes to see the colorful lion dancers and dragons parading through the winding streets of America's largest Chinatown. The rest of the year, you can browse through the shops and markets and choose from the area's many restaurants when you're ready for a meal.

From New York for Kids: 25 Big Apple Sites to Color, Patricia J. Wynne <http://store.doverpublications.com/0486441261.html>

www.coloriage.info